KIRKPATRICK—REAR

A small, quiet wedding but one claiming widespread interest was that of Mrs. Doris Holcombe Rea and Mr. Erle Patton Kirkpatrick which was solemnized on Saturday morning, July 27 at 11 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roger M. Boh, Sr., the Reverend Warlick Aiken Rector of Christ Episcopal Church reading the marriage vows before a small group of relatives and close friends.

The bride given in marriage by Mr. Walter J. Gex wore a street-length dress of ice blue sheer fashion with a short jacket trimmed in lace. This was worn with a small hat made of ostrich feathers, completed with a face veil of matching shade. She carried a silver covered prayer book from which cascaded gardenias and tube roses. She had as her only attendant Mrs. Roger M. Boh who wore a dark blue sheer and a hat made of white roses and a shoulder corsage of small white rosebuds. Mr. Kirkpatrick had as his best man his son-in-law Mr. Edward B. Means of New Orleans.

The reception rooms of the Boh home were decorated with tall potted palms and large containers held white gladioli. In the dining room the table was covered with an imported cloth of Madeira and lace and centered with the large wedding cake. Crystal candelabra held lighted tapers. Presiding at the punch bowl were Misses Margaret and Rita Boh and Mary Jane Gex.

For traveling the bride wore dark blue sheer with a matching hat and dark blue accessories. They will be absent several weeks traveling thru Florida and other points and will later be at home at 968 Beach Boulevard, Bay St. Louis.

The bride is a native of London, England and is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Walter Holcombe of that city. Since her early girlhood she has lived in the United States more than thirty years of which she spent in Bay St. Louis. She is a graduate of Northwestern University, at Evanston, Ill., and has been very prominent here in social and civic affairs. ## Californians Come to Fish; Get Ducking Instead

Joseph A. Comstock, accompanied by his three sons, W. C., E. W. and Arthur, Jr., of Compton, California, along with Geo. Utz, of Fort Worth, Texas, Star Telegram representative in Odessa, Texas, arrived at Bay St. Louis Monday morning for a 2 weeks fishing trip.

Tuesday morning while fishing in two boats, one boat pulling the other, they encountered one of those "unusual" squalls that blew them into the L. & N. R. bridge. One boat going through one section, the other through another section of the bridge. They tried to weather the "storm" under the trestle but the waves soon took its toll. One boat containing the elder Comstock, Joseph A., 75 years of age and W. C. and Arthur, Jr., turned over completely, losing rods, reels, tools, ice box, clothing and their outboard motor was knocked from its fastenings but was recovered by an emergency tie rope. The other boat containing Mr. Utz and Ed Comstock filled with water but did not sink, enabling these two to climb upon the bridge to safety.

Undaunted by the "unusual" storm the Comstock party replenished their fishing equipment and Wednesday resumed their fishing in the Bay when another squall set in. This time the Comstocks profited by their experience and ran in for shelter.

The Comstocks last visited Bay St. Louis in 1924. They were all born in New Orleans. The party expects to remain at the Bay until the middle of August.

GARMENT FACTORY MAY LOCATE HERE

Much has been said in these columns about the activities of the Chamber of Commerce in their efforts to have established in Hancock County an industry that would bring a sizeable payroll into our midst.

There may be a chance of seeing these dreams realized. This week representatives of two plants have visited Bay St. Louis, with a view of establishing garment factories here. There is a possibility that we may be able to get one of these. The question that arises is labor. Is there a sufficient amount of girls and women in the county who could work in these factories. It is necessary that the Chamber of Commerce gather this information in order to submit it to these people. We understand that it will be necessary that we can assure them that approximately 400 girls and women will be available for work.

Elsewhere in this paper you will find a form addressed to the Chamber of Commerce, and if you are interested in securing employment in a garment factory it established here please fill it in and mail to the Chamber of Commerce.

The opportunity is at hand for us to secure a plant that will furnish employment to many people. Will we move to help this cause, or will we just take a nonchalant attitude. The answer will soon be known.

To teach these effectively a POOL is necessary. Come out and help build this much needed pool.

Thursday, August 8 at St. Joseph Academy Hall at 8 p. m. Tickets will be on sale next week.

WORKSHOP IN HEALTH EDUCATION BEING CONDUCTED AT BAY HI

The Workshop in Health Education being conducted at Bay High under the supervision of J. M. Frazier is creating added interest each day. Well planned interesting programs are offered to the public each morning at the assembly hour, 10 o'clock.

This week's program is under the direction of E. E. Breland, head of the Leetown School and on Monday it opened with the singing of Onward Christian Soldiers and Clyde Gordon gave the invocation. A vocal quartette was rendered by Doc Thigpen, Clyde Gordon, Lonas Ladner and E. E. Breland.

Father O'Leary now stationed at Kiln was guests speaker and in his introductory remarks said that in speaking to teachers he wanted to talk about something that would be of great interest to them and could think of nothing of greater interest to a teacher than children.

Father O'Leary said that in the effort of trying to make education non-denominational it had become Atheistic and that it was the work of teachers to educate with a view to bringing up men and women for God. The three great factors in the molding of the character of youth he said is The Home, the School and the Church and these he said, are so closely interwoven that one cannot do its work without the other. "Knowledge," he said, is not education. We gave the Japs knowledge and they threw it back at us."

With the type of teaching and training in the home, the school and the church that will bring the child to womanhood and manhood closer to God, then America will be able to place first in education as it has been first in other things.

Consultants for this week have been H. M. Brooks, State Board of Education from Jackson and Dr. R. G. Lowery supervisor teacher training in school Health Service, Mississippi Southern College.

TEACHERS AND NURSES

TWO professions that should be well paid for their services and which have been underpaid in sections of this country in the past are teachers and nurses. With a rising cost of living underway and salaried workers bearing the worst of its effects, these two professions should be considered.

Probably the educational profession has received more favorable publicity recently. In many states teachers' salaries are being raised and their profession lauded by responsible officials. But too many hospitals remain understaffed and are suffering from a lack of candidates in nursing schools.

Teachers mold the lives of future generations but nurses save those of today—and a poor or over-worked hospital staff is a serious defect in its community. It becomes even more serious when we have an emergency in the family.

Something is wrong with a wage scale allowing taxi drivers to make more than deans of universities. Something is wrong when unskilled labor makes more money than skilled nurses and teachers. And with inflation possible, and rising cost of living an actuality both professions need a helping hand from the average citizen of this country.

Even the worker who reaped war profits or those who are making more in a week today than they did in a month formerly, must understand that their children deserve the best opportunity. The best includes an efficient and widespread medical profession. It also includes good teachers and better schools for a generation which is starting out in what we hope will be a peaceful era.

To induce competence in these professions, there must be an adequate living in them. Respect, pride and a good salary should go along with the work. To get these virtues, more money will be needed in the future. Money spent for such purposes should be considered a sound investment.

THIRTY YEARS OF WAR AND PEACE

ON August 1st, thirty-two years ago, the Kaiser started his legions marching to begin the first World War which finally engulfed the United States.

We were woefully unprepared for the conflict that we entered but, thanks to Allied nations, which had been fighting the foe for nearly three years, we managed to get the necessary equipment and American soldiers, under Gen. John J. Pershing, made known to the world that Americans could fight.

After the close of the struggle the United States, together with Great Britain and France, succumbed to the dangerous delusion that war would be no more. We put into effect a disarmament program that heavily penalized the victorious nations but had no restrictive effect upon former enemy nations or upon Japan.

While the people of the democracies lulled themselves to sleep in a delirious dream of pacifism, believing that they were safely ensconced behind a non-belligerent nationalism, the enemies of mankind, under the leadership of dictators, plotted to conquer the earth, enslave free people and master all mankind.

Once more, when the great storm broke, in 1939, we were inadequately prepared for warfare. In fact, up to the very eve of the attack upon Pearl Harbor, and the resulting declarations of war against us that issued from Berlin and Rome, we were ill-prepared to defend our own soil from modern attacks.

Let us not make the same mistake a second time, now that something like peace exists. Let this nation resolutely resolve to turn a deaf ear to selfish nationalism and to improvident pacifism. Let us keep armed forces strong enough for any possible task because in preparedness there is security, if there is no guarantee of peace.

OVERLOOKING IMPORTANT MARKET

IT IS well known that manufacturers of products sold on a national scale have directed the major part of their selling efforts toward large city markets.

We have often wondered why these sellers organize their advertising campaigns almost exclusively in large cities. Very often they use every daily newspaper in a large city, thus inevitably duplicating their sales effort, without taking into consideration the vast market that offers profits in the small towns and cities throughout the nation.

The importance of this market is emphasized by Arch L. Thiele, who says that a survey by Pathfinder Magazine, revealed that towns of less than 5,000 population, representing only ten per cent of the country's total, do twenty-three per cent of the nation's business.

Mr. Thiele points out that sixty per cent of the population of this country lives in cities under 25,000 and on farms. He says that forty per cent of the $42,000,000,000 worth of retail sales in 1930 came from towns under this size.

While the war was still being fought we placed large orders for electrical equipment and materials to be delivered after hostilities ceased. We did this because we expected that peace would bring increased demands for electric service from both old and new customers.

The war ended. Deliveries began, then factories closed for various reasons, and deliveries slowed almost to a standstill. As a result we have not been able to fill all applications as promptly as usual.

Hundreds of different items enter into the manufacture of necessary materials and equipment for electric lines, and the lack of any one essential item can delay completion of a construction project.

We are doing, and will continue to do everything possible to bring electric service to those who have applied for it, at the earliest possible date.

Forest Harvesting Act Violators Pay Fines

Fines and court costs amounting to $583.75 were paid by operators on fifteen timber cutting tracts for violations of Mississippi's "Forest Harvesting Act" during the six month period of January 1 to June 30, 1946, according to a report just released by the Mississippi Forest Service. Eighty-six cases were carried over pending final check-up, while 400 operations inspected were found to be within the limit set by the law.

Inspections were made by State Forest Service field personnel in 68 counties and a gross total of 491 cutting operations were checked for compliance with the law. Senate Bill 156 of the 1944 session of the Legislature requires that four seed trees per acre 10 inches in diameter 12 inches above the ground be left on pine areas. For hardwood areas the required number is six trees 10 inches in diameter above the swell. If the operator desires he may leave as many as one hundred young trees to each acre, instead of the four seed trees, but each young tree must be at least four inches in diameter breast high.

Enforcement by personnel of the Mississippi Forest Service is required under the terms of the law.

To The Voters Of Waveland, Miss.

Waveland, Miss.
June 17, 1946

Dear Voter:

Just a few lines to inform you that after careful thought, I have decided to yield to the request of a number of Waveland's citizens to offer myself as a candidate for the Office of Mayor in the coming Primary Election to be held the third day of August of this year.

The achievements accomplished by my administration while serving as your Mayor from 1932 to 1934 is a record I feel sufficiently qualifies me for the office.

To those of you who are not familiar with achievements performed during my administration, I wish to briefly cite a few projects enacted at that time which proved of benefit to the citizens and taxpayers.

We presented the taxpayers with several miles of concrete paving without any additional increase in taxes, added thirty feet to the width of both Sears Avenue and Fell Street, and graded same. All drainage canals were thoroughly placed in order, and culverts were placed where needed, in order to insure the proper flow of water.

Also placed eight light standards on the Beach Front. One at each street intersection.

Prior to serving as your Mayor, I served as Chairman of the School Board.

During this period, with the cooperation of the following gentlemen:

Mr. Jules Favre
Mr. Alcide Bordages
Mr. August Ruhr
Mr. Alphonse Favre

who were members of the Board at that time, the present school building was erected.

We were careful in keeping within the Budget at all times. All salaries and bills were paid promptly.

THERE WAS NO INCREASE IN TAXES DURING MY ADMINISTRATION

I favor all necessary improvements at the lowest cost to the taxpayers.

The most necessary improvement I can visualize at this time is an adequate water system. This is one project that is badly needed; and with the proper support, I shall exert every effort to attain this end.

My policy shall be to hold down taxes to a minimum, and see that the taxpayers get value received for every dollar spent.

Your support will be needed and appreciated.

Yours truly,

ORTTE THEATRE SUNDAY - MONDAY "HER ADVENTUROUS NIGHT"

With Dennis O'Keefe and Helen Walker

"Her Adventurous Night," announced as one of Universal's most exciting action comedies comes Sunday and Monday to the Ortte Theatre.

Dennis O'Keefe and Helen Walker are starred. In the supporting cast are scotty Beckett, Fuzzy Knight and Tom Powers.

The original screenplay by Jerry Warner, described as an outstanding achievement of this well known movie craftsman, deals humorously with a novel situation, in which the wild imagination of a little boy lands his parents in jail as murder suspects.

Plot Is Ingenious
O'Keefe and Miss Walker appear as the distracted father and mother. Young scotty Beckett is seen as the son.

Action of the plot shows how the youngster innocently manufactures the story of his parents' wedding and how they become involved with a bandit after the latter slays a bank teller.

ALL out of the same basket

Telephone materials for catching up on thousands of applications for telephones, extending farm telephone service, and providing more long distance facilities all come from the same basket. It's a big basket, but war communication demands emptied it and left us way behind in switchboards, buildings, cables and everything telephone service requires.

In spite of hampering shortages of raw materials—lead, copper, steel and the like—we're making progress. And we won't let up until there's plenty of service, local and long distance, for town and farm.
